

Bindweed IPN Group Code of Practice

We actively acknowledge the Therapeutic Relationship in our work.
Within that, our ethics are:

- We are committed to our own personal and professional development.
- We believe in keeping the client's material confidential, with the possible exception of:
 1. supervision with an experienced practitioner.
 2. fulfilling a medical or legal requirement. This would normally be discussed with the client.
- It is our intention never to abuse the client physically, sexually, verbally, emotionally or financially.
- We aim to respect our client's uniqueness including physical and cultural differences, beliefs and values, support systems and boundaries.
- We take responsibility for being clear about boundaries.
- We aim to create a safe working space
- We aim to be honest both with ourselves and with clients.
- We take responsibility for dealing appropriately and promptly with any problems which arise between ourselves and our clients.
